

We'll keep the wheels turning

Marine Insurance

Zurich Marine Insurance is a specialised insurance policy that covers sea freight, air freight and goods transported by road, rail or post.

Cargo

Your insurance is tailored to cover any import to, or export from South Africa. Our experience covers the entire field and so we are able to advise on packaging and protection of goods, which risk control measures are the best and the correct procedures to take when clearing goods through customs.

Sea freight

We are one of the largest insurers of sea freight and our expertise in this arena is hard to beat. Our position in the marketplace is due to our ability to shape your insurance to meet your special needs. We are also able to insure hull and machinery on all vessels used for commercial purposes.

Road and rail

The journey of goods along the routes of road and rail is a complicated one, but we are well acquainted with all the ways to ease the process. Our team of professionals is rich in experience and we offer individually tailored insurance solutions, advice on the packaging and protection of goods, security measures required and the correct procedures for clearing goods through customs.

Air freight

As South Africa takes its place in the global village and new markets open up, the demand for air freight insurance has grown.

We are highly experienced in this particular field and are able to offer all the advantages of scrupulously detailed insurance to suit your needs.

Once again we are able to advise on the packaging and protection of goods, the security requirements necessary for landed goods at international airports and the correct procedures for clearing goods through customs.

Pleasure craft

As a specialist section to our Marine Insurance Policy we offer comprehensive insurance on all pleasure craft. This includes racing risk for sailing vessels participating in both local and international races. Pleasure craft insurance applies to yachts, motor boats and private fishing boats.

Our global strength

As members of Zurich we are represented worldwide and thus have the facilities to settle claims anywhere in the world, subject to Exchange Control Regulations. Thus you have access to vast resources and globally honed expertise. In this way, someone is looking after your interests at all times.

Apart from a wealth of experience gained in practical situations in this field, we place a unique skills base at your disposal.

Our people are thoroughly professional and able to tailor an insurance policy for you on any cargo exported from, or imported, to South Africa.
